Letter: Why does McKinney fret over solar farms, but not DTG?

To the editor — I watched recent comments by one of our county commissioners, Amanda McKinney, expressing concerns about the possible environmental impact of solar farms as why she has tried to block them.

The strange thing is that it seems that she has no clear-cut environmental and toxicity concerns about the DTG operations in Yakima County.

Why the disconnect ? Was there a campaign contribution from the previous owner, now manager of this operation?

I'm just curious.
